Deputy Sheriffs Present Requests To County Commission

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, December 11, at the courthouse annex in Enterprise, and received a written request from the Coffee County Sheriff's Department for additional pay, manpower and equipment.

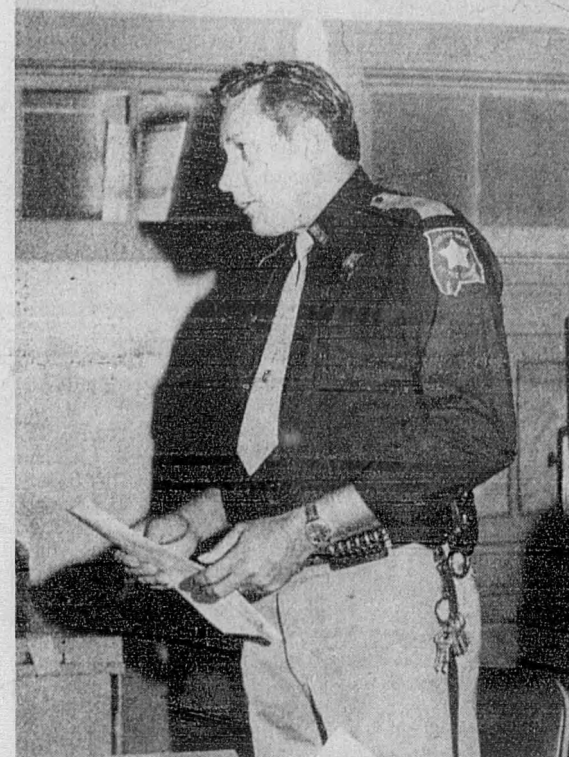

A large delegation, which included all the Deputy Sheriffs, Judge Gary McAlliey and several county residents, was present at the meeting and all supported the requests.

Deputy Sheriff Bobby Whigham acted as the spokesman for the group and stated, "We want the commission to know what our problems are."

Alabama to the best of our ability, and realizing that although we feel we have fulfilled this oath, we cannot continue to give the people of this county the protection and service they deserve with the manpower and equipment with which we are now operating.

"We, the deputies of the Coffee County Sheriff's Department, respectfully request the following according to the needs of the Department in order to continue to fulfill that which we have sworn to do.

"1. Four (4) additional deputies - At this time we have 4 male deputies, including the in-

Sheriff's Department, which included figures and comparisons of surrounding law enforcement agencies. The list revealed that Coffee County has a population of 34,872 people, but that the county only employs 5 deputies. These 5 deputies, of which only 4 actually patrol the county, must patrol a total of 1,411 total miles of roadway.

During the past year the Sheriff's Department's workload has included (besides patrolling), attempting to deliver almost 3,000 court papers. Of this amount, 6,957 papers were actually served. Also, a total of over 3,000 papers were mailed out of the Sheriff's Department.

With two deputies working in each division, and by splitting the workload between the two men, the average hours worked by each deputy stands at 75 hours per week. These figures represent the usual hours worked, and do not include any calls which may be answered during hours normally considered as "off-duty time."

The comparison sheet presented at the meeting showed that, although Coffee County is larger in size than Houston County, and even though Coffee County delivered more court papers than Houston County, Coffee County's Sheriff's Department has 19 less deputies.

The comparison also revealed that Dale County has more than twice as many deputies as Coffee County!

Judge Gary McAlliey spoke up and said, "I work with these men and they are to be commended for the fine job they do. These people are not here just for themselves - they're here for all of you. The increased workload these men must do is trying. They work long and hard, and they work hours when everyone else is at home relaxing. Criminals don't work regular hours. I don't think the people of Coffee County know how lucky we are to have such qualified people working for us."

A local minister also addressed the Commission and said, "I appeal to the Commission to help the Sheriff's Department with the overloaded conditions. They need your help."

Probate Judge James L. Sawyer stated, "We have money problems too. We told the Sheriff that as more tax money comes in, we will get a new car for his department."

Commissioner Jack Hornsby declared, "I'd like to give 'em all a raise, but they'll have to tell me where to get the money!"

Judge Sawyer added, "We think we do the best we can with what we have. We know we've got good people. We will take these requests under consideration."

Commissioner Don Smith said, "I will sit down and study the figures, and if there is a way, I'm in favor of helping all of you."

After both sides presented their cases, both parties exchanged courtesies, and both seemed ready for Round 2.

The first order of business at the bi-monthly meeting, which began at 10:00 a.m. with all commissioners present, was to open bids on pipe to be used by the County Highway Department. Bids were received from Mid-State Drainage Products, Southern Culvert, Brown Pipe

Company, Favon, Alabama Metal Forming Company, and Choctaw. After the bids were inspected by members of the Engineering Department, the Commission voted to award the contracts to Mid-State Drainage Products and Alabama Metal Forming Company. The contract included a clause that if either company failed to meet delivery requests, their part of the contract would be voided, and would be taken over by Southern Culvert.

Judge Sawyer informed the Commission: "Of an A-95 review for a grant of $315,000 for construction of a tank and water main for the Mt. Pleasant-Battant's Crossroads Water Authority. The Commission approved the review."

"Upon request, the Commission adopted a resolution approving amendments to the original charter of the Tabernacle-Clintville Water Authority (the purpose was to change some wording in the charter)."

"The Commission appointed Asst. Engineer Tim Hornsby to be the county's representative in the Personnel Management Services Program."

"After a brief discussion, the Commission agreed to buy parts on a rotating monthly basis until a plan is worked out."

"And, the Commission agreed to install a heater at the W.I.C. offices in the Farm Center area."

In the only other news of note that happened at Monday's meeting, Commission Clerk Brunease Winston told the Commission that a new CETA program will start January 1, and that 5 workers will be assigned to clean up the many old cemeteries in the county. The remaining workers will be cooks for the jail (2) and clean-up crews for county buildings (3).

In other action, the Commission: "Was invited to the American Legion Christmas party on Thursday, December 14, in Elba;

"Was told the county jail received a good report from the recent inspection;

"Approved a request from County Engineer Leslie Mullins to order an additional 300 tons of stone;

"Agreed to borrow $5,022 to pay a bill for tax appraisal work; and

"Was told that Houston County had offered to build a $400,000 Youth Diagnostic and Evaluation Center. The Commission had earlier offered to donate 10 acres of land on which the building could be erected.

TWISTED REMAINS OF THE LINEN TRUCK ARE ALL THAT IS LEFT FOLLOWING WEDNESDAY MORNING WRECK.

Opp Man Killed In Grinding Collision

An early morning traffic accident claimed the life of one of the drivers Wednesday morning at the intersection of Highway 87 South and 134 West (Samson Highway and Opp-Enterprise highway at Junior Kelley's Store).

Dead is John Franklin Hart, age 24, of Rt. 2, Opp. He was alive when picked up by rescue workers, but they reported losing the pulse before arriving at the Elba hospital. Hart was driving a Mann Linen truck, and the driver of the other vehicle (an eighteen wheel tractor trailer) was driven by Herman Rayford Rotton, Rt. 3, Troy. The tractor trailer rig was owned by Charles Lawson of Brundidge.

Mr. Frank Windham, who witnessed the 7 a.m. accident, stated to investigators and to this newspaper that Hart's vehicle stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of the larger truck. Windham said he was waiting there for Junior Kelley to open his store at the time of the accident. The laundry truck virtually disintegrated. Damage to the tractor trailer was $25-30 thousand, according to Lawson, even if the motor was not damaged.

Rotton suffered only a small cut from flying glass.

Trooper Willie White and Cpl. D. H. Parker investigated the wreck. They were assisted by the Coffee County Sheriff's Department.

City School Board Asked To Sell Land

The Elba City School Board meeting last Thursday was a lively affair with about fourteen people present to discuss with the council the merits of releasing some land to the city for ultimate construction of a shopping center. The school board members listened but made no decision nor set a date for the decision.

Steve Simmons of Dothan who is a shopping center developer, was introduced to the Board by City Councilman Jimmy Wise. Simmons told the board members they wanted to build a small shopping center on the vacant land between the elementary school and Col. Cleveland. He noted they would construct a chain link fence all along Dixon Street (between the school and shopping center, and have no access onto Dixon. According to Simmons and Arthur Morris of Benson Wholesale in Geneva, the center would include four stores, a new enlarged Piggly Wiggly, a U-Gro and two smaller stores he didn't name.

F. Imman addressed the board on behalf of the residents of Rebecca Lane and noted, "We are directly in the line of fire on Rebecca Lane and except for one family we are 100% in favor of this project. It will be good for health reasons, by improving drainage and cutting down on mosquitoes."

Mrs. Dixie Dorsey asked Simmons, "Who authorized you to survey this property?" She noted that no one else could tell her this. Simmons said he took this on himself because he needed to know if the acreage was sufficient. Mrs. Dorsey also asked, "Why concentrate in downtown Elba, when all other towns are moving away from downtown". Simmons explained that the pe-

Marion Brunsen, who served as consultant for the Elba schools in their recent accreditation. Brunsen also serves on accreditation committees throughout the state. The letter indicated that in no way would the sale of the land hurt the school system in accreditation reviews. He said he knew of not one case in eleven years where this was considered in accrediting the school. Brunsen told this newspaper in a telephone conversation that the only concern by the committee was the property being low with water standing most of the time. He reminded the Clipper reported that improvement of this was recommended in the report.

Board Chairman Russell Cash said, "It is said we, the school board, are put on the spot on whether Elba gets a shopping center or not". Arthur Morris, of Benson Wholesale operators of the local Piggly Wiggly, said his firm didn't want to force the local people into anything - they needed a new store, because their business was growing and they had faith that Elba would continue to grow.

Mrs. Elizabeth DeVane said, "There is not anyone in this room that doesn't want a shopping center in Elba, but we just don't want it on school property. Her husband, Joe DeVane, echoed her statements by saying they would do anything to help find an alternate location for the center."

Others made comments, but no action was taken by the Board.

Representative Jimmy Holley appeared before the board and gave a report on recent activities by himself and Superintendent Elmer Taylor. Holley said they had contacted representatives of the Superintendent of Education and explained the need for additional funds from the school construction bond issue. Reports from his contacts and a personal call from Governor Wallace to Taylor indicate that an additional $150,000 of building funds will be made available to the Elba school system for work at the high school.

It is alarming! News reports indicate Alabama folks will find some shortages of whiskey at the state store this Christmas season. Of course that will not bother Coffee County citizens, because they all know we live in a dry county and it ain't very legal here. This also means all the beer cans and bottles we see along the sides of the roads, just ain't there either.

The Elba School Board is on the spot again and the members sure don't want to make the decision. However that goes along with the honor of serving. A shopping center developer has asked for some property owned by the school board. The city officials have endorsed the sale, yet the school board has carefully avoided any decision. There is some vocal opposition and some quiet support, the percentages of each are anyone's guess. Tempers of local citizens flared at the meeting last week and frankly we are all editors was embarrassed that the out of town folks were subjected to something they didn't deserve. Also we feel the school board members are making a no decision by their indecision, and this indecision is the worst possible answer. This leaves the impression that these individuals don't have the ability to make decisions even though it is far from the truth.

Citizens have a right (even an obligation) to voice their opinions on matters concerning the entire community but as one protester at the council meeting said, "Those out of town visitors deserve an apology for the way they were treated." This often happens when emotions get involved but we are happy and proud that this individual did face the visitors after the meeting and personally apologized.

Tuesday morning Doris Farmer called to tell me about her Monday fishing trip. There they were catching all those big ole bream and at the very time they were catching them, I was in a discussion about it being cold for anybody to fish successfully! If there is any question about me being an expert on the matter, this should remove all doubt.

The City Council paid the legal fees in the Johnston-Folsom suit in a special meeting Thursday night. There was little debate on the matter and the expected results turned out to be fact when the four councilmen present voted three to one in favor. The decision was not mine to make and I will not second guess the council but it still upsets me when I know the whole thing was unnecessary and provoked rather than avoided.

We have read alot about CPR to help save lives, have seen demonstrations, but paid little attention because that happens to "the other fellow". Well last week when Mrs. Russell fell into the creek and later needed long application of breathing assistance in a futile effort to save her life, the trained rescue squad members became exhausted and yet the editor was forced into the action with a very, very quick lesson in proper application. Even now I guarantee closer attention to the next demonstration and urge those of you who haven't had any experience to grasp every word and movement, 'cause it might be me needing help next time.

The sheriff's department needs to be systematically replacing cars, the deputies work long hours, none of us make enough money, etc., but personally I feel the deputies were out of place Monday in placing their "request" before the commission, as they did. We feel the sheriff should speak for his department and just as loudly as necessary, but the deputies should be on the job.

The Elba Rescue Squad officers have been asked to appear before the City Council next Tuesday night and give a report on their activities and finances. We salute this move and feel all related groups should routinely take this action.

Compton Offers Resignation

As Utility Superintendent

Ed Compton, Superintendent for the Elba Water and Electric Board, submitted his resignation to be effective January 1, according to a report given to the Board Tuesday night by Chairman Charles Hayes. However, after some discussion, the Board tabled any action on the resignation for one week, at the request of Compton. Compton cited in his letter problems in the department and apparent lack of support on the part of some members of the Board.

Some of the problems cited by Compton were approved for payment, after it was noted that Hayes had reviewed them and correct purchase orders were available for all charges. Full power payment of $125 was made to Vivian Manning. Board members were told that fifteen accounts totaling $770.49 were in the late category nine accounts totaling $641.23 were inactive with deposits still to be applied and two meters were pulled totaling $52.94. These also have deposits to apply.

The Elba City Council met last Thursday evening in a special meeting and approved payment of legal fees for G. A. Lindsey totaling $1503.26. The bill was the fee for representing Mayor Folsom in the suit filed by former Chief M. W. Johnston. The council vote was three to one. Councilman John W. Sharpless opposed the action, saying he thought it was a personal thing between Johnston and Folsom and not the responsibility of the city. Councilman Jimmy Wise, who joined in opposing the action in August, was not present at the meeting.

Schools Awarded Accreditation

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, through its Commission on Elementary Schools, has awarded accreditation to Elba Elementary and Elba Middle Schools. The announcement was made by Dr. Matthew Hall during the Association's 83rd Annual Meeting here December 10-13. The accreditation of schools and systems is based on an evaluation of each school to determine if it meets not only the needs of the students and community but also the standards of quality of the Commission. The evaluation process includes self-study by the school and review by a visiting committee of professional educators representing the Association's member elementary school systems. Founded in 1895, the Southern Association is a voluntary, nongovernmental agency composed of nearly 10,000 colleges and universities, occupational institutions, and secondary and elementary schools. Headquartered in Atlanta, it is one of six regional accrediting associations in the United States and encompasses 11 southern states from Virginia to Texas. The purpose of regional accreditation is to improve the quality of education. Each member school and system must carry on a continuing program of improvement and to maintain its accreditation, must submit annual reports and undergo periodic re-evaluation.

James Meachum, who was injured in a Thanksgiving hunting accident, has returned home for the Christmas holidays. He is scheduled to return to a Tennessee hospital December 27 where he will undergo further test on his eyesight.

Taylor told the board of the approval from the State Department of Education of an expert to study the high school and Junior High building and recommend steps to upgrade them with the available funds. Taylor offered some possible ways this could be done and urged board members to begin thinking the proposals.

A Gadsden dairyman, Goodwin L. Myrick, has been elected president of Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, the state's largest farm organization. In an election held at the farm group's 57th annual meeting in Mobile Dec. 5, Myrick defeated J. D. Hays of Huntsville who has been president for the past 17 years.

SCHOLARSHIPS
The Dean of the School of Agriculture at Auburn this week sent me a list of scholarships available to students in the School of Agriculture at Auburn. These scholarships are for the years 1979 and 1980.

They range from $300 up to $1000. For example, the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans gives four $500 scholarships to students in the School of Agriculture at Auburn. The Southern Farm Equipment Manufacturers' scholarship is for $1000. Goldsmith gives three $500 scholarships.

If you are interested in getting a list of the scholarships which are available, contact me at 894-5596. You may want to contact the chairman of the Scholarship Committee, Dr. J. P. Hood, Ag. Scholarship Committee, Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama. March 15 is the deadline for applying.

GRAZING
Dr. Donald M. Ball and Dr. C. R. Ruffin, specialists at Auburn, recommend three ways to stretch winter grazing.

The first way to stretch winter grazing is to limit the time the cattle are on the pasture. Research indicates that 2-6 hours of grazing per day results in the most efficient use of limit-grazed pastures.

The second way to stretch winter grazing is to rotate the fields, if possible. For example, you can concentrate cattle in one area to graze the grass to a relatively low height in a short period of time. Then in succeeding days you can graze other pastures. Most Coffee County farmers could probably limit grazing much better than they could rotate grazing.

A third way to stretch grazing is, of course, to provide animals with supplemental feed and hay will enable you to increase the stocking rates of animals per acre considerably. Grain may be low enough priced this year to enable you to feed grain to young growing animals.

HOG OUTLOOK
Coffee County is growing in the market of hog business.

Dan Linton, our marketing specialist at Auburn, told Dan Presley and me this week that the hog business appears bright for the future as any other livestock enterprise.

The quality of the hogs being produced in this area has greatly improved. They are being accepted better because of this improvement in quality.

Linton expects a market of 46-52¢ per 100 going until September of 1979. The latter of next fall may see prices dropping to 44-46¢ per 100.

SAFETY
Parents who let young children ride unmarked bicycles or even marked bicycles at night on narrow streets are just asking for a tragedy.

Probably the worst time of day to be riding bicycle is the twilight period between sundown and dark. If you have small children riding a bicycle, you need to see that they stay off the streets after dark.

MSEED OPPORTUNITY
This would have been an excellent year to graze cattle to heavier weights. For example, if it is profitable to graze cattle when they are bringing 40¢ a pound, you can imagine how much more profitable it is when they are 70¢ a pound. The dry weather in late August, September, October and most of November prevented grazing from being established.

For some individual farmers, taking their own home-produced calves on to heavier weights or buy light-weight cattle grazing can be profitable. If you have done some thinking about how to get more money out of your calves, you might consider a grazing program.

BEEF CATTLE OUTLOOK
Folks who study the cattle production pricing system are saying that growers should have five years of excellent beef cattle prices. In 1977 Alabama cattle producers sold 1,350,000 head of cattle. This year it is estimated that Alabama will sell 1,400,000 head of cattle. This is a 20% reduction in numbers which is a lot of cows. In 1977 the total value of cattle sold in Alabama was $250,000,000. We should sell $350,000,000 worth of cattle in 1978. This is a 40% increase in value of a beef animal in 1977 was $28. This year the estimated value is $42.

The Stiver's 4-H club met December 5 in the club room. The meeting was called to order by the president Jennifer Parrish. After group singing, which was led by our song leaders Ricky Messick and Darren Steven, the vice president, Dana Salter, led the pledges to the American and 4-H flags.

The devotion was given by Dana McIlwain. Our secretary, David Daniels, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The minutes were approved.

Subjects discussed under business were: Poster Contest, Coloring Contest and Macramé.

The vice president, Dana Salter, introduced the program "Woodworking," which was given by Mrs. Devane. After the program, the president adjourned the meeting until next month at the same time and place.

Game leader Sharon Siler led the group in playing games.

HANDLING TIPS FOR RAISINS
For easy chopping, toss 1 cup of raisins with 1 teaspoon salad oil and chop with a sharp knife. Raisins also chop well in a good processor. Chopped raisins impart a full flavor to baked goods.

If a recipe calls for ground raisins, use an oil-coated blender or meat grinder. To pump raisins, cover the amount needed with very hot tap water and soak for 2-3 minutes; drain. Longer soaking results in flavor and nutrient loss. A new flavor dimension can be added by plumping raisins in fruit juice or other beverages and refrigerating overnight. Reserve juices for other uses.

For better distribution in a cake batter, stir 3/4 of Put all packages in the trunk and be sure it is locked. Don't tempt thieves by putting your parcels on display inside the car.

Keep in mind that with most insurance policies thefts of personal property from a motor vehicle or trailer may be covered only if the thief forces the vehicle.

HOLIDAY FOOD SAFETY
Christmas is the time for entertaining family and friends, and serving rich and highly perishable foods. I'd like to remind you that turkeys, oysters, and even roast beef need special care to prevent spoilage.

Thaw turkeys in the refrigerator or in a plastic bag under running water. Never thaw at room temperature. This gives bacteria a chance to grow. Also, it's safer to cook the dressing separately. If you do stuff your bird, check the internal temperature to make sure it reaches 165 degrees for complete safety.

Clear the table as soon as you can and refrigerate your Christmas turkey. Take special precautions with scalloped oysters. Put them directly in the oven from the refrigerator and store leftovers immediately. Cook rare roast beef until the internal temperature is at least 140 degrees and heat pan drippings to the boiling point to assure safety.

Magnolia Garden Club Has Christmas Party

The Magnolia Garden Club held its annual Christmas party at the Elba Country Club on December 7.

As the members and their guests arrived, they were served Christmas punch by Mrs. P. H. Sellers, club president, and Mrs. Everett Kelley.

The dining room was decorated in Christmas splendor, with Mrs. Sellers' hand-made tree ornaments hanging on a beautiful tree.

The mantle held large crocheted stockings and the place cards were marked with a pretty hand-made Christmas tree candy bag to be treasured for years to come by members and guests.

The invocation was given by Mr. L. F. Inman, and a delicious dinner was enjoyed.

Mrs. Sellers shared some wonderful Christmas thoughts and welcomed a new member, Mrs. J. E. Tucker; two special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Windham; and the husbands of club members.

Sony Inman was a jolly Santa, and passed out gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Windham, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bailey, Mrs. M. O. Brueckner, Mrs. Sam Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Mrs. Sellers asked the drawing names for her hand-painted china plate and the picture painted by Mary Louise Collier, both of which were donated to the club.

Mrs. Peggy Ham received the plate and Crystal Crowell won the painting.

Mrs. Sellers presided over a short business session. Mrs. Joe Martin was elected as a new member.

DAR Honor Good Citizenship Winners

The John Coffee Chapter of DAR met in the beautiful colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brunson for their December meeting. They honored the Good Citizens from the five high schools of Coffee County.

Mr. Matt Brunson helped to direct parking and assisting to the entrance, which was beautifully decorated. Throughout the home beautiful poinsettias, Christmas trees and ornaments of decorations were used to carry out the Christmas motif. An impressive Manger scene at the entrance hall gave all the feeling of the true meaning of the Christ Child on Christmas Day.

The luncheon tables held lovely centerpieces and individual place cards depicting the Christmas Theme.

The hostesses served a delicious luncheon to the honored guests, visitors and members.

After the luncheon, the Regent, Mrs. May Bryan called the meeting to order, following the ritual.

Mrs. Dottie Porter, Good Citizen Chairman, introduced the Good Citizens, giving them many activities and accomplishments. She also presented each with a DAR Good Citizen pin and Certificate. The following schools were represented: Mr. Doug Martin; Miss Jan Watson - New Brockton; and Miss Donna King - Kinston.

Two could not attend due to other commitments: Mr. Steve McQueen - Enterprise and Miss Lisa Lowery - Zion Chapel.

Following the presentation of pins and certificates, Mrs. James Kuhl gave the National Defense program. Mrs. Myra Snellgrove gave the President General's Message. American Heritage in Poetry was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Shering, as well as two poems. Topics were given about Alabama. Alabama Day is December 14. A salute to the American Flag was given by all. The meeting adjourned by giving the American Creed in unison.

Visitors were Mrs. Ann McGovern, Rebecca Ricketts, Ann Smith, Sue Cobb, Dr. Fay Grimmer and Mrs. Gladys Covert. The hostesses were Mrs. Nancy Brunson, Olive Ray Martin, Josephine Kendrick, Mary Whitman.

Three-In-One Club Meets

Spurr announced the program "Listen To The Bells" written by Betty Perdue and was given by Mrs. J. D. Whitman.

Mrs. Judson Vaughn, assisted by Mrs. Tom Jones, gave the history of many favorite Christmas carols. Mrs. Jones sang some of these Carols accompanied by Mr. Vaughn on the Auto Harp. Vocal numbers by these gifted musicians filled hearts with Christmas joy. Mrs. Vaughn invited the group to join in singing the favorite "Silent Night" and ended a beautiful Christmas musical with everybody singing "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

The Jr. High Student Council is sponsoring a Teacher of the Week. This week's selection is Rev. C. A. Hammonds, who teaches 7th grade science. Congratulations!

Don't You Hate...

... Christmas music that starts right after Thanksgiving and practically drives you out of your mind by December 25th.

... Exchanging gifts with your girlfriend, and finding out she spent ten times more on yours than you did on hers.

... When your class is preparing Christmas displays and rehearsing the Christmas Pageant... and you're Jewish.

... Bumping into the person whose gift you are in the process of returning.

... Rushing out to show off your new Toyota Corolla and the pass the street just got a lot more crowded.

... All those plucky, greedy grins from the store people who are absolutely miserable to you for the rest of the year.

... Having to explain all the Santa Clauses to your 5-year old sister.

Three Seasons Study Club Meets

The beautifully decorated Methodist Fellowship Hall was the setting for the December meeting of the Three Seasons Study Club on Monday, December 11, 1978 at 7 p.m. The hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Judy McIlwain and Mrs. Virginia Sowards, served a delicious salad and desert plate to each of the 19 members present.

The meeting was called to order by club president, Mrs. Cathy Smith.

A report was given on the success of the Christmas Bake Sale and Bazaar by Way and Means Chairman, Mrs. Karen Brooks.

Everyone was congratulated on its success and thanked for the work put forth by every member of the club. Also, a decision was made to sponsor a worthy family during the Christmas Season again this year as in past years. Then plans were made to provide a special Christmas for the two patients at Targaret Development Center in Wetumpka, Alabama who the club has sponsored throughout each year since 1971. After a few other items of business, the president called on the members of the club responsible for the program for the evening.

Mrs. Betsy Harrison and Mrs. Mary Jo Hudson were responsible for the program and provided materials for each member to make a Christmas centerpiece. Under their direction each member left the meeting very pleased with her beautiful new Christmas centerpiece that she has created all by herself. The program was thoroughly enjoyed by every member.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Summer Jobs Available At Ft. Rucker

Summer jobs will be available at Ft. Rucker in 1979, according to a recent announcement by the Civil Service Commission.

Minimum age for applicants is 18. The exception is the 16 or 17-year-old high school graduate.

Group 1 (clerical and administrative) jobs require a written test. Applications have to be postmarked to the commission's office in Huntsville, Ala., not later than Jan. 12, 1979.

People who passed the summer written test in 1978 are not required to retake it. They will receive a query from the commission to determine their interest in applying for Group 1 jobs in 1979. If that written inquiry is not received by Jan. 1, the Civil Service Commission area office which issued a person's 1978 notice should be notified by Jan. 18, 1979.

For summer jobs other than clerical and administrative, application is to be made at the Office of Civilian Personnel, Fort Rucker, Building 6605, between Feb. 16 and March 15, 1979.

Application forms and a copy of the summer announcement can be obtained at Rucker's Civilian Personnel office. For further information, call Neva Collins, 255-5603, or Mabel Bradley, 255-6877.

Teacher Course Requirements Available At Ft. Rucker

The Department of Education and Psychology at the main campus of Troy State University is offering late afternoon and evening courses during the coming winter quarter for persons who need to upgrade their skills and certificates.

Recent actions by the Alabama State Board of Education make it necessary that teachers have more formal training now than was required in the past. Teachers must now obtain a master's degree within eight years of college graduation, and new school administrators must complete a six year program.

This additional mandatory training will make permanent teachers better qualified, and there is no reason why the school children of Alabama should ever again have to suffer from unqualified teachers.

The 3 p.m. schedule at Troy State University for graduates and undergraduates requiring more formal training includes the titles: Reading Improvement, Foundations of Education, Organization of the Elementary School, Current Problems in Social and Rehabilitation Services and Educational Psychology.

Also in the afternoons at 4 p.m., Communication Arts, Applied Behavior Modification and Methods and Techniques of Social and Rehabilitation Services will be taught.
